Athletes of the Week

Girls Basketball

Freshman Ivy Stewart. Coach Kyle Strauch says, "Ivy scored 11 points in the JV game last week vs. Cardington, including a go-ahead jump shot late in the first overtime. Ivy has been one of the main contributors on the JV team this year, and also gets some varsity time. She also does swimming and does a great job balancing the two."

Boys Basketball

Sophomore A.J. Watkins. Coach Rob Lisle says, "A.J. played a huge role off the bench in his first varsity appearance of the season against Mansfield Christian. In the victory, he had eight points, three rebounds, two assists and three steals in nine minutes, to help us get to our best record this far into the season, in 12 years."

Swimming

Freshman Brynn Cheney. Coach Denise Jeffrey says, "Brynn is a great asset to the team. She can swim all four strokes, which is a big help when it comes to relays and swimming different events. She dropped 15.21 seconds on her 200 free Jan. 2 at Shelby. Brynn is always willing to swim what is needed of her."

Bowling

Freshman Erin McKenna. Coach Jeff Teeple says, "Erin is a freshman this year with a bunch of experience. She bowled in our youth program and on leagues with her dad. Erin has a great deal of potential and I expect good things from her finishing up the season and the next three years. Erin's average is 142 and her high game for the season is a 189."
